PLAYERS IN TODAY'S GAME.

The work of Van Leuvan, Pomona's captain in today's game, will be watched with interest. Van Leuvan is a veteran football player, having played several seasons on the "varsity" at Amherst, and was at one time sub on the famous All-American team. He is also a crack sprinter, having a record of 10-2-5, for 100 yards, and, as he weighs 170, he has the reputation of being "hard to catch."

Tolman, Pomona's other half, is also an athlete of no mean note, having thrown a sixteen-pound hammer over one hundred feet on several occasions. He is powerfully built, weighing about 175, and is one of the strongest line buckers in Southern California.

Goodall, Occidental's right half, is also an Amherst man, having played on the team and also on the All-American team. Goodall's strong point is in running around the ends, frequently making the phenomenal runs of fifty or sixty yards. He is also a very difficult man to tackle.

Reilo, Occidental's other half, is a new man in that position, having played tackle for the past two seasons, but as he has always been a good ground-gainer it is not likely that he will fail to put on a good game. Behind the line that he did when a rusher.

"Bill" Ramsaur, the fullback, needs little to be said about him, as every one that has ever seen him play knows that he is one of the strongest buckers on the Coast, and also a good punter. Ramsaur has been playing for Occidental for two seasons, and has played the position of left end for the last two seasons. He is undoubtedly the best end in this part of the country, his strong points being the way he gets down on the ball and his superb tackling.

Leeds and Randall, Occidental's tackles, each play a star game, being good at breaking up interference and are sure, hard tacklers. Ramsaur, Place and Salisbury, the three center men, are a strong trio, each man playing his position for all there is in it. Place, the center, is an old player from the East, is a cool player, and a sure tackler. Salisbury, left guard, although this is his first season, is putting up a game worthy of an old player.

The quarterback has not been decided upon. Murielt and Bradshaw being so evenly matched, but either of them can be depended upon. Murielt being the heavier, however, will probably beat out the lighter man for the place.

UNION RUN.
Wheelmen of Riverside County Meet at Elsinore.
The wheelmen of Riverside county assembled yesterday at Elsinore to arrange on a satisfactory plan for measuring the county roads with their cyclometers.

The Riverside Wheelmen, the largest and best-known bicycle club in Southern California, got up a monster petition to the Supervisors asking for signboards throughout the county. The Supervisors were glad to grant the request, for the wheelmen agreed to do most of the work and the signboards were the best advertisements the county could have.

The union meet at Elsinore was called on this account by I. S. Logan, chairman Interclub Relations Committee of the A.C.C. of C.

About 6 o'clock Sunday morning the first party left Riverside for Elsinore. It was composed of Scott, the class B rider of the Riverside, Wing, the class A rider of Riverside, Sangstaff, who won the last Riverside novice race and others.

The second party left Riverside at about 7 o'clock and numbered among its riders, President Correll and Secretary Logan of the Riverside, a Times representative and some of the younger scorers. They went over the Aliso and Boulevard up Box Spring Canyon, which is the finest piece of road building in California, and measured the road with several different kinds of cyclometers. At Perris a party of wheelmen were picked up and the scorers left with a broken wheel.

At 8 o'clock the tandem party left Riverside to out score all the rest. In Elsinore quite a party of wheelmen had collected and the different crowds were all welcomed with cheers and humbuging.

The wheelmen had a sulphur bath and dinner at Elsinore and then decided to cut the county up into districts and put committees in charge of the districts. Each committee will measure its district roads and establish the signboards.

The home ride from Elsinore was most exciting, as coming, as every body wanted to scorch, even the single riders from the near-by towns. The Riverside scorers made the thirty-mile run in two hours, and the Perris road racers, Patterson and Newer, also went at a fifteen-mile gallop even on the long grades.

The union runs are to Pasadena for the annual New Year's day meet of the Associated Cycling Clubs, and on January 5 to Ontario for the monthly meeting of the board of the inter-collegiate series, and the second is to be played today at Athletic Park between the Pomona and Occidental teams.

Pomona has been practicing for many weeks for this contest under their coach, Van Leuvan, the ex-Amherst back. Pomona intends to play her coach at right half, and as the team is already the heaviest in Southern California, averaging about 175 pounds, the Occidentals will have to look to their laurels or suffer the humiliation of defeat.

The success of the Occidental eleven is largely due to the excellent team work, and the perfect harmony among the members, none of whom go in for personal glory, but for the honor of the college they represent. This is the true college spirit, and any team that plays for the fame of its alma-mater is more back was a larger meet than the one at Elsinore, as the ride was only half as long and the day more inviting.

BICYCLE NOTES.
Dave Shafer, the veteran trainer, has got together a big team at the Southern Pacific's excellent bicycle track at Santa Monica, and after the boys get well broken in for pacing, the whole Syracuse team will go to Coronado track, San Diego, where most of the desired records are assured, as the Coronado is at present the fastest track in America for bicycle riding.

The male features of the Coronado track is its long and wide turns, long straights, and wonderful surface, which is a sort of adobe.

Early in August a two-day meet was held there with only three class B racing men, Ulbricht, McCrea and Slater, and yet their time was from ten to twenty seconds faster to the men than Bald and the other Eastern crack-jacks were making on the Buffalo track at the same time as Van Leuvan's September meet. Coronado was easier for the racing men to make speed on than the Riverside, Santa Ana and San Bernardino tracks.

Shafer has chosen the Coronado track also on account of his four and five-men pacing machines, a mile track being 80 yards easier to get around than a third of a mile.

The Syracuse team has been made up for pacing Hamilton and Ziegler for one hundred feet on several occasions. The Syracuse team has been made up for pacing Hamilton and Ziegler for one hundred feet on several occasions.

he thought he could make a matter of $10,000 by racing for a season abroad. He would have no hesitancy in going across with the subject of an American trip now under consideration.

Sporting Notes.
Danny Needham and Young Corbett are to meet in a glove contest at Colma.

Eugene Carter, the American billiard player, is to meet Peal, the English champion, in a match for the English title.

The New York Baseball Club has thirty players either under contract or reserve.

Expert, in a game of 15,000 points up under English rules, on January 20, for $500 a side.

Over $75,000 will be expended at the Oakland track in improvements during the next three months.

Henry of Navarre, and the Belmont thoroughbreds are wintering at Babylon farm, Long Island.

Tom O'Rourke is quoted as saying that Corbett's resignation as champion of the world is a matter of time.

Richard Croker and Pierre Lorillard have entered horses to run for the Champagne stakes at Doncaster, Eng., in 1896.

Pat Sheedy has sailed for Europe on the Augusta Victoria to enjoy a season on the continent at Riley Grannan's expense.

Mr. Croker has changed the name of Rey del Carretero, the young American racehorse recently shipped to England, to Amerio.

Sims, the jockey who rode in England for Croker and Lorillard, and returned a confirmed Anglophile, is expected here next week.

The redoubtable Snapper Garrison is on the lookout for a place as trainer.

His name is mentioned in connection with several big stables.

Jim Hall and Joe Chynowski have been matched to box twenty rounds before the Athletic Club on January 12.

A forfeit of $500 has been posted. Harvard and the University of Pennsylvania have made an agreement to meet in dual track and field games in Philadelphia about the middle of May.

Bernard J. Webers, who was disqualified by the A.A.U., will contest the order. The sprinter thinks enough of his amateur status to ask the courts to help him get it back.

It is rumored in Princeton College circles that Lea, captain of the Princeton football team, intends leaving college in the near future, and will graduate with his class in the spring.

Jacob Schaffer is beginning earnest practice at fourteen-hill ball-kick-billiards in the near future, and will enter a match with George Slosson, who lately expressed a willingness to meet his old opponent again. His arm gives him no end and he expects to play as well as ever.

The Cincinnati Jockey Club announces the fourteen stakes for the next spring meeting with an aggregate guarantee of $45,000. Three stakes are announced for the Oakley Fall meeting, each worth from $1500 to $1800. All entries close January 15.

The six biggest turf winners of 1895 in this country are: David Gideon, $71,300; P. J. Dwyer, $62,150; Belmont stable (August Belmont), $42,202; J. J. McCafferty, $44,848; Lord of the Isles, $30,150; Santa Anita stable, $27,425; M. F. Dwyer, who only raced at the fall meetings in this country, won $13,242.

At the late St. Louis meeting, forty-four owners each won $2000 or over of the $340,000 distributed in stakes and purses. Barney Schreiber headed the list, with $17,818. Edward J. Rodger, Jr., with $12,417; W. J. Spiers, $9800; J. E. Cushing, $9708; L. L. Rose, $8000; J. G. Brown, $6252; Col. Weatherford, $5923; E. C. Headley, $5060.

The St. Louis Fair Association has made public the stake programme for the spring, summer and fall meetings of 1896, which will total over fifty thousand dollars will be divided among the stakes, entries to close January 15, 1896. The principal stake is the inaugural, a handicap stakes race for three-year-olds and upward, value $25,000, which $32,000 goes to the winner.

Eugene Carter, the American billiardist, who has been in Paris two years, declines the offer of Robert, the English champion, for a match at English billiards, 24,000 points, with 12,000 consolation. Carter wants to play the American game.

A. G. Spalding is quoted as saying that the blacklisting of bicyclists as Canbaine, Murphy and Titus for crooked racing is a cruel and unusual punishment. What about Hall, Craver, Nichols and Devlin, who were permanently retired from the national game for corrupt practices, Mr. Spalding?

With the exception of Griffin, A. Claydon, who has been engaged by the Brookdale stable for the coming year of a salary $10,000, without the privilege of outside mounts, made about as good an average as any jockey that rode continually last season, winning twenty-three out of ninety-nine mounts.

"Pittsburgh Phil" Smith, known from one end of the country to the other as a heavy plunger and owner of a very notable horse, arrived from New York Monday, accompanied by his mother, who makes her first visit to the Coast, and will spend the winter here. Mr. Smith's horses have been here nearly a month.

John Roberts, English champion billiardist, is after "Gene" Carter, the American, offering him a discount in 24,000 points for $5000 a side. Roberts further offers to give Carter $500 if the latter wins, and will accept a table anywhere in London for him to practice on, the table to be used in the match, which must be played December 30.

E. J. Baldwin says that Richard Croker paid $15,000 cash for Rey del Santa Anita. This is $10,000 less than the amount reported to have been paid for the anti-bicycle racing. It is said that the public will then know how successful the Pasadena club has been in track building.

Emil Ulbricht expects to devote next year to racing entirely, and will therefore retire from the bicycle business as a dealer. Will Hatton, who has made excellent success in the bicycle business, will ride with Ulbricht throughout 1896 on the tandem, and they will probably be as great a tandem team in the East as they have been in Southern California. Both will race on single wheels in the same team, doubling up for tandem events, which will be more common next year.

Capt. Baker of the Citrus Wheelmen, spent yesterday in and about San Diego on his wheel, returning to Los Angeles by train. Capt. Baker is the first one who used a bicycle in Southern California, and was a racing man—a decade ago.

The local clubs found the weather yesterday too threatening for club runs. The Roamers and East Siders put in most of the day at their respective club houses.

On Saturday, Campbell of the Stearns team made a third, unplaced, standing start, in 0:42:35; the world's record was 0:43 flat. Today, weather permitting, Gleason will have it tried for officially, between 10 and 11 a.m.

Santa Monica wheelmen, who have given the officers no trouble at all since the ordinance passed last spring shutting them off from all the sidewalks, petitioned the Town Trustees for a winter permit to use the sidewalks. Pending action by the Trustees the local Chamber of Commerce has taken the matter up, and will not only oppose the wheelmen's petition, but propose to go after the happy small boy and his coaster, and banish him with the wheel. Now the question is, which pole is longest, Chamber or bike?

The National Circuit meets in Southern California were a success in most ways except attendance. The three days here were very interesting, and deserved a better patronage. It was the last meeting of Bald, the champion of the year, and Murphy, the veteran racer. They will probably never line up again side by side for the pistol signal, as Murphy's best hopes from the life suspension is to be allowed to ride in professional races, while Bald desires to retire from the championship, and hardly be allowed to ride in even American professional races, but he may go abroad to race.

Hundreds of tickets have already been sold by the Executive Committee for the proposed cycle fair at the pavilion on December 23, 27 and 28, and eight exhibits have been promised by cycle dealers. Probably kindred trades will be prominent.

BECAUSE HE WAS IRISH.
Corbett Favored Peter Maher on the Ground of Nationality.

Ex-Champion Corbett was interviewed recently regarding his reason for selecting Maher as his successor in the prize ring, and gave the following explanation of his action:

"I bestowed the championship upon Peter Maher because he is an Irishman, and because I prefer he should have and defend the title rather than place it in the custody of an Australian or Englishman. Up to the present I have declined to give my reasons for recognizing Maher, but you can print that as coming from me. I consider Peter Maher the peer of any man in the ring, and have no hesitancy in saying that he can whip Fitzsimmons. He is a great man, and he will demonstrate his right to bear the title of champion of the world."

close December 21. The contests will be held in the sixty-foot tank, probably the best in the country. They will be under the rules of the Amateur Athletic Union. The prizes are first and second in each event, solid gold and silver medals.

Among the stars whose get won $1000 and over this year are twenty-five sons of George Wilkes, with total earnings of $13,726. Electioneer has but nine sons whose get have won over $1000, and their winnings total near $70,000.

The get of eleven grandsons of George Wilkes have won $73,748. Electioneer has not a single grandson whose get has won $1000. Money talks and the family that gets it with uniformity outclasses the one that makes a show with an occasional winner.

Stake races other than futurity stakes will not be in high favor among horsemen next year. During the last year horsemen have dropped thousands of dollars in entrance money paid last winter on stake nominations, and for which in many cases they never got a chance to start. W. J. Andrews, one of the largest winning drivers of the year, recently stated that nearly all his winning horses were entered in purse events, and that in the future he should avoid the early-closing stakes.

Whether wintering the trotter in a warm climate is advisable is a disputed question. Many good trainers come to California for the winter, notably Orrin A. Hickok and John Goldsmith. Ed Geers will go to Alabama. Monroe Salisbury will not take his string to the Coast, but will winter in Lincoln, Neb., and Red Oak, Iowa. Bud Polle has tried California, but prefers Terre Haute, Ind. Of the lesser lights few go away from home, and most of the expenses of the season are paid in the future he should avoid the early-closing stakes.

POOLROOMS BARRED.

There is an Ordinance Against Such Institutions.

Poolrooms furnish a subject for agitation in a great many cities and Los Angeles has a share of it. These resorts are usually patronized to a large extent by young men who can ill afford to squander their money on such things, and withstanding the fact that there is an ordinance against it at least one of these institutions continues to operate this city.

The ordinance in question is No. 2767, the subject matter of it says:

"Sec. 1.—It shall be and is hereby declared unlawful for any person, either owner, agent or employee, to conduct or carry on, or in any capacity to assist in carrying on the business of 'poolroom,' or to conduct or assist in conducting the business of 'making books' or 'selling pools' on races or other contests within the corporate limits of the city of Los Angeles. Provided, that this ordinance shall not prohibit 'making books' or 'selling pools' during race meetings or horse races run or conducted on any track or ground, all, or any portion of which is within the corporate limits of the city of Los Angeles."

Sec. 2.—A poolroom is defined to be a place where betting or laying of wagers upon the results of races or contests is carried on as a business.

Violation of the ordinance is punishable by a fine not exceeding $500 or imprisonment for six months, or both.

Army and Navy Union.

Regular Army and Navy Union General George Crook Garrison, 138, had a meeting at McDonald Hall last evening, at which the following-named officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year: Paymaster, A. V. Lambert; senior vice-commander, J. R. Fletcher; junior vice-commander, Thomas Kavanaugh; adjutant, J. G. Hale; quartermaster, James Cussen; quartermaster, W. H. Maaser; officer of the day, J. C. C. Price; officer of the guard, E. H. Cushman; officer of the watch, E. Hinckley; chaplain, George E. Price; council of administration, J. R. Fletcher, H. Reid, J. C. C. Price. Commander Lambert was chosen to represent the garrison at the national convention at Washington, D. C.

Ada Faulkner is Dead.

Ada Faulkner, the unfortunate girl who was to have appeared against Dr. Mrs. Smith on a charge of malpractice, died at her home in Santa Ana last evening at 8:10 from the result of a criminal operation performed on her. The death of the prosecuting witness is expected to put a bar on all future proceedings against the defendant.

RIPANS TABULES

Mr. F. B. Palmer of the Oskaloosa, Iowa, Times, under date of May 5, 1895, relates the following experience: "Recently I was compelled by a serious siege of dyspepsia to resign my editorial work, and thought to seek relief by a month's travel on the Pacific Coast. The rest and change helped me somewhat, but I could find no relief from the awful fits of indigestion. When about to return home to Iowa I entered a prominent drug store in Tacoma, Wash., and asked for something that would bring relief from my indigestion. The druggist sold me a box of Ripans Tabules for 50 cents. In less than twenty-four hours I could feel a change for the better. From that day to this I have used Ripans Tabules whenever I feel my old ailment getting in its grip, and with most commendable results."

Ripans Tabules are sold by druggists or by mail if the price, 50 cents a box is sent to The Ripans Chemical Co., 30 West Spruce St., New York. Sample mail, 10 cents.

FALLEN WOMEN.

What a Lecturer Says He Knows About Them.

At the conclusion of a short programme of orchestral and vocal music, Fred Bell and J. McIvor Tyndall entertained an audience in Illinois Hall last evening. Mr. Bell lectured on "Can the fallen women of Los Angeles be reclaimed?"

At a suggestion by the speaker that there were fallen men as well as fallen women, the male part of the audience clapped their hands and stamped right lustily to show their appreciation of the joke, but when he supplemented this remark with the statement that statistics proved there were seven fallen men to one fallen woman, the applause was noticeably weaker.

The speaker favored keeping houses of ill-fame in one part of the city. "Japan has the social evil under better control than we have," he said, "and yet we send missionaries over there to give the Japanese points of morality."

Their houses of prostitution are kept two miles from the cities and inclosed by walls, and no one has any business within those walls except for one specific purpose.

"In a trip I took through the tenderloin districts of Alameda and Commercial streets I found no drunkenness, but when I got back to Spring street I ran against seven or eight in about five minutes. The social evil will always exist. Society may be like a lion to wine, the better it is generally, the less drugs will there be. Few reform ministers are followers of the meek and lowly Jesus. They do not say, 'Go and sin no more.' They drive these women away with the words, 'Go and sin somewhere else.'"

"Do not scatter the outcast women through your city. Out of 700 fallen women whom I assisted to reclaim in New York city, eight-tenths were more sinned against than sinning. One per cent. only chose the life deliberately, and I per cent. took the course of prostitution on their consciences for the fine clothes and high living which it insures for a very brief time."

"When a man is a physical wreck and there are no other homes for him to ruin he can return to a warm home, welcome and his father will have the fattest calf and special music for his reception. We do not give the other half of humanity the same chance. Society never forgives a woman who falls, not because the sin is distasteful but because she has been found out. Are all you people here tonight quite pure?"

The speaker paused for a reply, but there was none.

"If the money sent out by the people of America for foreign missions was kept here to help fallen women there would soon be no recruits for the bawdy houses and prisons."

"There is more real religion in a bowl of soup and a warm bed than there is in all the long prayers ever offered."

The speaker suggested as a good method of reclaiming fallen women one immortalized by Eugene Sue in "The Mysteries of Paris," the establishment of quiet country homes where they could gradually regain their health, both morally and physically, and then be sent to some remote place, there to take up life's duties untrammelled by a disgraced name or evil acquaintances.

Mr. Tyndall performed two of his usual tests.

A MARVELOUS MARKSMAN.

Dr. Carver's Skill with the Rifle at Agricultural Park.

In spite of the drizzling rain that fell yesterday afternoon, Dr. Carver carried out his programme of expert rifle shooting, and several hundred people had sufficient curiosity concerning the marksman to find their way to Agricultural Park, and then endure the discomforts of the weather while they watched Dr. Carver's work.

The reputation of Dr. Carver led the spectators to expect something sensational in the line of rifle shooting, and they were not disappointed. Promptly at 2:30 o'clock Dr. Carver, accompanied by his assistant, stepped inside the race track and took his stand at the side of a large table, on which reposed guns, shells, blue rocks, wooden balls, glass balls, base balls, oranges, apples and potatoes in varying quantities, all to be used later as targets.

Dr. Carver is a physical giant, massive in frame, with keen blue eyes and thick brown hair. The latter is not left to wave in the wind in the style usually affected by traveling "ex-scouts," but is trimmed in the manner that the ordinary citizen considers the proper thing.

About forty wooden balls, a trifle smaller than croquet balls, were the first marks used by the marksman. Thrown high in the air in quick succession, they were riddled by bullets, and their fragments scattered to the winds. Apples and oranges suffered a similar fate at the marksman's hands. Dr. Carver making mincemeat of them, missing but two or three of the several score shot at.

When this became monotonous Dr. Carver tossed a silver dollar to his man, who threw it high in the air, and as it descended, the marksman pierced it with a bullet, and when it dropped, a number of spectators were eager to exchange another coin for the one mutilated by Dr. Carver. The crowd saw in this a chance to obtain souvenirs, for a moderate sum, and before the rifle man was through a goodly number of silver pieces had their usefulness as legal tender destroyed.

Glass balls and blue rocks came next, and were broken with an ease and dexterity that seemed little short of miraculous. To illustrate what might be done by an expert Dr. Carver threw from his own hand three glass balls, while at the same moment his assistant threw two, and the five were broken in as many successive shots before they reached the ground.

As the concluding feature of the exhibition Dr. Carver brought out his famous trick horse and did some of his best work while astride the intelligent animal. Blue rocks were scattered by the horse while Dr. Carver rode at full speed before the grandstand. Two or three repetitions of this performance were given and Dr. Carver announced the programme at an end. The various bits of wood, shells and glass broken by the crowd as mementos of the man and the occasion.

MOUNTED DRILL.

Cavalry Troop D Had a Ride Up Country.

Troop D of the First Brigade had its third mounted drill yesterday morning, leaving about 8:30. A platoon of about eighteen men, under command of First Lieut. W. R. Teale, proceeded to San Gabriel by way of East Seventh street, Boyle Heights, and Alhambra, where it was met by a squad under command of First Sergt. J. T. Thompson, which had gone by another route. After partaking of a collation (which had been prepared for them by the commissary department), both solids and liquids, they returned home, coming into the city at the end of Downey avenue. Both going and coming, the monotony of the march was overcome by skirmish drill and various other movements.

The men are becoming very proficient in the evolutions, and notwithstanding the rain, did not break rank until about an hour after reaching the city. Altogether, it can be said to be the best and most enjoyable outing the troop has had.

Mounted drill is ordered for New Year's day. The troop will probably ride to Baldwin's ranch, taking in the Tournament of Roses en route. Cannons and saddlebags have been received by the troops, also overcoats and revolvers; and carbines and sabers are expected within a few days. The troop is recruited up to the limit, with a waiting list of those ready to join when there is a vacancy. There will probably be an election soon, as it is rumored that Lieut. George Reed, Jr., has sent in his resignation to the Governor. Among those mentioned for the position are Sergts. Solano, Fredericks and James, and Corp. Walsh.

THE W. G. WALZ COMPANY'S

Special Holiday Sale of Mexican and Indian Curiosities and Souvenir Goods.

A visit to the store of this enterprising firm at No. 221 South Spring street will convince the most skeptical that they have the largest stock of Mexican and Indian curiosities in the State. They are now daily receiving new goods from their Mexican stores, and being as they are constantly on the ground in Mexico to purchase goods, can take advantage of the lowest prices in making purchases.

In the line of Mexican drawn work alone they employ some one hundred and fifty-eight Mexican women, and are now running a special sale in this line for a few days, which the public should take advantage of.

They are also manufacturers in the City of Mexico of the silver filigree, and are now offering for a few days these beautiful silver goods at one-half the usual retail prices. Don't miss this sale at No. 221 South Spring street, W. G. Walz Co.'s Curio Store.
